About This Sample Questions Booklet

On behalf of the National Assessment of Educational Progress (NAEP), I want to thank you for your participation in this essential measure of student achievement in America. NAEP tells us what students in our country know and can do. In the coming year, fourth-, eighth- and twelfth-graders will participate in NAEP. Eighth-graders will take civics and U.S. history as well as participate in field tests for mathematics, reading and writing.

Assessments require about 90 minutes of a student's time, and students only answer questions in one subject. The test booklet contains 50 minutes of test questions and a brief background section. This booklet features sample questions, selected responses, and background questions to help give you a better understanding of what the assessment is like.

NAEP is voluntary and confidential. Students' answers to all questions are confidential and student names are removed from all assessment materials prior to the materials leaving the school. Individual student scores are not reported.

Results of the civics and U.S. history assessments will be released in the Nation's Report Card in the spring of 2007. They are widely discussed in the press and are used by policymakers, educators, and researchers to make decisions about education policy and funding.

If you have any questions or comments regarding NAEP or would like to view previous Nation's Report Cards, please visit the NAEP web site at <http://nces.ed.gov/nationsreportcard>. Also available through the web site is a Questions Tool (<http://nces.ed.gov/nationsreportcard/itmr1s>) which will allow you to review additional sample questions with sample answers.

Peggy G. Carr, Associate Commissioner
Education Assessment
National Center for Education Statistics

NAEP is administered by NCES, a principal component of the U.S. Department of Education's Institute of Education Sciences. Policy for the assessment, including its content and standards, is set by the independent, bipartisan National Assessment Governing Board (www.nagb.org).

The Civics Assessment

The NAEP civics assessment encompasses three interrelated components: civics knowledge, intellectual and participatory skills, and civic dispositions. The knowledge component of the assessment is expressed in five fundamental questions:

- What are civic life, politics, and government?
- What are the foundations of the American political system?
- How does the government established by the Constitution embody the purposes, values, and principles of American democracy?
- What is the relationship of the United States to other nations and to world affairs?
- What are the roles of citizens in American democracy?

The NAEP civics assessment is also designed to measure the intellectual and participatory skills students need to face the challenges of public life in a constitutional democracy. Central among these are the abilities to describe, explain, and analyze information and arguments, and to evaluate, take, and defend positions on public issues. The third area of the assessment, civic dispositions and participatory skills, refers to the rights and responsibilities of citizens as members of society.

The assessment is made up of multiple-choice, short constructed-response, and extended constructed-response questions. The constructed-response questions make up approximately 40 percent of the assessment time. For more information regarding the civics assessment framework please visit <http://nagb.org>.

The U.S. History Assessment

The assessment is organized around three concepts or dimensions: major themes of U.S. history, chronological periods of U.S. history, and ways of knowing and thinking about U.S. history. The themes and periods of U.S. history function as a matrix, with the assessment addressing the role of the themes across the periods.

NAEP U.S. History Framework Distribution of Question Pool Across Historical Themes

Grade	Change & Continuity in American Democracy	Gathering & Interactions of Peoples, Cultures, & Ideas	Economic & Technological Changes & Their Relation to Society, Ideas, & the Environment	Changing Role of America in the World
8	30%	30%	20%	20%

Eight chronological periods that overlap and vary in depth of coverage are included in the assessment:

- Beginnings to 1607;
- Colonization, settlement, and communities (1607 to 1763);
- The Revolution and the new nation (1763 to 1815);
- Expansion and reform (1801 to 1861);
- Crisis of the Union: Civil War and Reconstruction (1850 to 1877);
- The development of modern America (1865 to 1920);
- Modern America and the World Wars (1914 to 1945);
- Contemporary America (1945 to present).

Questions include multiple-choice, short constructed-response, and extended constructed-response formats. The cognitive dimension of historical thinking is measured by the inclusion of test questions divided between those measuring historical knowledge and perspective (35%) and those measuring historical analysis and interpretation (65%). Constructed-response questions make up approximately 50% of the assessment. Many questions in the assessment are based on visual or textual stimuli. At Grade 8, a portion of the assessment questions may be organized around a single historical issue. For more information regarding the U.S. history assessment framework please visit <http://nagb.org>.

Civics and U.S. History Booklet Directions

In each of the next two sections, you will have 25 minutes to answer a series of questions about history or civics. You should think carefully about your answers, and you should use the entire 25 minutes to complete each section.

You will be asked to respond to several different types of questions. Some of the questions will require you to choose the best answer and fill in the oval for that answer in your booklet.

For other questions, you will be asked to write short answers on the blank lines provided in your booklet. Here is an example of a question that requires you to provide a short answer.

Example 1

Who was Thomas Jefferson and why was he important? Try to identify two reasons.

Jefferson was the third U.S. President. He was the main writer of the Declaration of Independence and he bought the Louisiana territory from France.

GO ON TO THE NEXT PAGE

Also, you will be asked to answer other questions by writing longer, more detailed responses on a full page of blank lines. For example, here is a question that requires you to provide a longer answer.

Example 2

Explain three reasons why the early English settlers of New England left home to journey to North America.

The early English settlers left home for three reasons. Many of them wanted religious freedom because the King would not let them practice their faiths. Some were looking for more land or a way to make a better living because they were poor or hadn't inherited any land. Others hoped to set up a whole new society better than the one they left behind.

When you are asked to write your response be sure that your handwriting is clear. Think carefully about each question and make your answers as complete as possible, using as many lines as you need.

Finally, in some questions you may be asked to draw maps, graphs, charts, tables, or timelines.

If you finish before time is called, be sure to read your work again and change anything that you think will make your answers better.

The Mathematics Assessment

The NAEP mathematics assessment measures students' ability to solve problems in five mathematics content strands: Number Properties and Operations; Measurement; Geometry; Data Analysis and Probability; and Algebra. Within each of these five content strands, students are asked questions that involve low, moderate, and high mathematical complexity.

The NAEP mathematics assessment includes multiple-choice questions, short-answer constructed-response questions, and extended constructed-response questions. The extended exercises allow students to communicate their ideas and demonstrate the reasoning they used to solve problems. The short-answer and extended-response questions make up approximately 50 percent of student assessment time. The assessment also incorporates the use of calculators, rulers, protractors, and ancillary materials such as spinners and geometric shapes in some parts of the assessment, but not all.

Scientific calculator use is permitted on approximately one-third of the test questions. NAEP provides calculators for all students. For more information regarding the mathematics assessment framework please visit <http://nagb.org>.

Number Properties and Operations	20%
Measurement	15%
Geometry	20%
Data Analysis and Probability	15%

Mathematics Booklet Directions

This assessment uses many different booklets. Each booklet has different questions. Do not worry if the person next to you is working on questions that do not look like those you are working on.

Read each question carefully and answer it as well as you can. Do not spend too much time on any one question.

For some of the questions you may need to write or draw the answer. You can see how this is done in the example below.

You may be given a calculator to use for at least one part of your booklet. If you are given a calculator, you will have to decide when to use it in each section where its use is permitted. For some questions using the calculator is helpful, but for other questions the calculator may not be helpful. After each question you will be asked to indicate whether you used the calculator.

When you receive the calculator, make sure you know how to use it. There are instructions on the back cover of this booklet to help you. If the calculator does not work or if you do not know how to use it, raise your hand and ask for help.

REMEMBER:

Read each question CAREFULLY.

Fill in only ONE OVAL for each question or write your answer in the space provided.

If you change your answer, ERASE your first answer COMPLETELY.

CHECK OVER your work if you finish a section early.

Do not go past the sign at the end of each section until you are told to do so.

The Reading Assessment

The NAEP reading assessment measures students' ability to understand, to interpret, and to think critically about different types of texts. Recognizing that readers vary their approach according to the demands of different types of text, the NAEP framework specifies the assessment of reading in three contexts: reading for literary experience, reading to gain information, and reading to perform a task. (Reading to perform a task is not assessed at Grade 8.) The assessment comprises reading materials selected from publications and other resources typically available to students in and out of school.

Across the three contexts for reading, students are asked to demonstrate their understanding by responding to comprehension questions that reflect four different approaches to understanding text. The NAEP framework accounts for these different approaches by specifying four aspects of reading that represent the types of comprehension questions asked of students. Forming a general understanding questions ask students to consider the text as a whole. Developing an interpretation questions ask students to discern connections and relationships within the text. Making reader/text connections questions ask students to connect information from the text with prior knowledge and experience. Examining content and structure questions ask students to critically evaluate the content, organization, and form of the text. All four aspects of reading are assessed at all three grades within the contexts for reading described above.

The NAEP reading assessment contains multiple-choice questions, as well as short and extended constructed-response questions. Students spend approximately 50 to 60 percent of their assessment time providing written answers to constructed-response questions. For more information regarding the reading assessment framework please visit <http://nagb.org>.

You will be asked to respond to three different types of questions. Some of the questions will require you to choose the best answer and fill in the oval for that answer in your booklet.

For other questions, you will be asked to write short answers on the blank lines provided in your booklet. Here is an example of a question that requires you to provide a short answer.

The Image Bank

In the dry land of southwestern Colorado a beautiful plateau rises. It has so many trees that early Spanish explorers called it Mesa Verde, which means “green table.” For about eight hundred years Native Americans called the Anasazi lived on this mesa. And then they left. Ever since the cliff houses were first discovered a hundred years ago, scientists and historians have wondered why.

Anasazi is a Navajo word meaning “the ancient ones.” When they first settled there, around 500 A. D., the Anasazi lived in alcoves in the walls of the high canyons. Later they moved to the level land on top, where they built houses of stone and mud mortar. As time passed, they constructed more elaborate houses, like apartment buildings, with several families living close together.

The Anasazi made beautiful pottery, turquoise jewelry, fine sashes of woven hair, and baskets woven tightly enough to hold water. They lived by hunting and by growing corn and squash. Their way of life went on peacefully for several hundred years.

Then around 1200 A.D. something strange happened, for which the reasons are not quite clear. Most of the people moved from the level plateau back down into alcoves in the cliffs. The move must have made their lives difficult because they had to climb back up to the plateau to do the farming. But it seems the Anasazi planned to stay in the canyon walls, for they soon filled the alcoves with amazing cliff dwellings. “Cliff Palace,” the most famous of these, had more than two hundred rooms.

For all the hard work that went into building these new homes, the Anasazi did not live in them long. By 1300 A.D. the cliff dwellings were empty. Mesa Verde was deserted and remained a ghost country for almost six hundred years. Were the people driven out of their homes by enemies? No sign of attack or fighting, or even the presence of other tribes, has been found.

Archaeologists who have studied the place now believe there are other reasons. Mesa Verde, the beautiful green table, was no longer a good place to live. For one thing, in the second half of the thirteenth century there were long periods of cold, and very little rain fell—or else it came at the wrong time of year. Scientists know this from examining the wood used in the cliff dwellings. The growth rings in trees show good and bad growing seasons. But the people had survived drought and bad weather before, so there must have been another reason.

The sturdy baskets, woven sandals, and beautiful pottery left behind by the Anasazi may be 1,000 years old.

As the population grew, more land on the mesa top had to be farmed in order to feed the people. That meant that trees had to be cut to clear the land and also to use for houses and fuel. Without the forests, the rain began to wash away the mesa top.

How do we know about erosion problems that happened about eight hundred years ago? The Anasazi built many low dams across the smaller valleys on the mesa to slow down rain runoff. Even so, good soil washed away, and the people could no longer raise enough food. As the forests dwindled, the animals, already over-hunted, left the mesa for mountainous areas with more trees.

And as the mesa “wore out,” so did the people. It appears that the Anasazi were not healthy. Scientists can learn a lot about ancient people’s health by studying the bones and teeth found in burials. The mesa dwellers had arthritis, and their teeth were worn down by the grit in corn meal, a main part of their diet.

Bureau of Land Management -Anasazi Heritage Center Collections

As food became scarce, people grew weaker. Not many lived beyond their twenties. Women died very young, and few babies survived. Living so close together in the cliff houses, where everyone was hungry and worried, the people must have suffered from emotional strain. They probably quarreled often.

In the end the Anasazi must have given up hope that things would get better. Families packed up and went away. Of course, the “ancient ones” did not simply disappear. They moved south-east to another area and mingled with other peoples. After a while their heritage as the people of the Mesa Verde was forgotten.

In time the trees grew back and the plateau became green once more. But, for the Anasazi it was too late. Although they respected nature and tried to farm wisely, land that was used too hard could not support them forever.

Yet in their cliff houses and crafts the “ancient ones” left us a superb monument. It is truly one of the most fascinating pictures of America’s past.

The Writing Assessment

The NAEP writing assessment measures three purposes of writing: narrative, informative, and persuasive. The narrative tasks comprise first-person and third-person fictional stories. The informative tasks comprise description, explanation, and analysis. The persuasive tasks comprise writing to convince, writing to construct an argument, and writing to refute a position.

Across the three purposes for writing, students are asked to respond in a variety of forms. These forms include essays, letters, reports, stories, and articles. Some tasks require students to write for a specified audience; for example, to a teacher, to a committee, or to a friend. Writing tasks in the 2006 assessment incorporate an array of stimulus materials, such as color photographs, comic strips, newspaper articles, and poems.

Each student participating in the assessment will receive one test booklet. At grade 8, students will receive two 25-minute writing tasks. All booklets contain a Planning Page, thus providing students with the opportunity to make notes and organize their ideas. In addition, all participating students are provided with a writing strategies brochure to remind them of various ways to plan and review their writing. For more information regarding the writing assessment framework please visit <http://nagb.org>.

Writing Booklet Directions

Sections 1 and 2 each contain one writing assignment. You will have 25 minutes to complete each assignment.

In each section, read the page that tells you your writing assignment. Then go on to the planning page where you can make notes and plan what to write. Do not write your paper on the planning page. After the planning page, there are lined pages where you should write your paper.

The following example shows what these pages look like.

The diagram illustrates the layout of three pages in a writing booklet, arranged in a staggered fashion to show their relative positions.

- Page 2: A large rectangular box containing the text "Your assignment is to write about . . ." at the top and "Page 2" at the bottom.
- Page 3: A rectangular box positioned to the right of Page 2. It contains the heading "PLANNING PAGE" followed by instructions: "Using this page to make notes and organize your ideas. You may want to use suggestions from the Ideas for Planning Your Writing in the brochure to help you get started." Below this is the instruction "DO NOT WRITE YOUR RESPONSE ON THIS PAGE." and "Page 3" at the bottom.

Remember to start writing your papers on the lined pages that begin on page 4 of each section that has a writing assignment.

For each assignment, you will probably need all of the 25 minutes to plan and write. Use as many lined pages as you need to write your paper. You may want to use ideas from the brochure you have been given to help you plan and review your paper.

If you finish before time is called, read your paper again and make any changes that you think will make it better.

Do not go past the  sign at the end of each section until you are told to do so.

Grade 8 Sample Writing Prompts

Writing Prompt 1 (with sample response)

Informative: Save a Book

For Save a Book, students were asked to explain what book they would save by memorization if they lived in a society where reading was not allowed. Since any book could be chosen, a wide range of responses was acceptable. In this booklet we provide a sample of an “Excellent” response.

A novel written in the 1950’s describes a world where people are not allowed to read books. A small group of people who want to save books memorize them, so that the books won’t be forgotten. For example, an old man who has memorized the novel The Call of the Wild helps a young boy memorize it by reciting the story to him. In this way, the book is saved for the future.

If you were told that you could save just one book for future generations, which book would you choose?

Write an essay in which you discuss which book you would choose to save for future generations and what it is about the book that makes it important to save. Be sure to discuss in detail why the book is important to you and why it would be important to future generations

Sample “Excellent” Response

“Excellent” responses provided well-chosen details and exhibited sentence variety and precise word choices across the response. In the sample response below, consistently well-chosen detail is provided to support his or her views about The Giver. The response is very well organized, with strong transitions. The student’s choice of words and comfort with varied sentence structure add power to his or her insights about the importance of books and reading. The “Excellent” rating was given to 4 percent of the responses to this task.

Sample "Excellent" Response

If I could only save one book, I would save The Giver by Lois Lowry. The Giver is one of my favorite books. I think it would benefit future generations, because it shows human faults, gives hope, and it models the "real-life" situation.

The Giver is about a very secluded community of people. The government chooses spouses, children, jobs, and determines every course of everyone's lives, except for the Receiver of Memory. He or she alone has all the knowledge of the past. The Receiver can see in color, feels true pain, recognizes animals, he or she holds the world's history in his or her mind. The people of old had chosen to give up color, weather, choosing. Everything was a state of "sameness." Everyone believes everything the government says, everyone follows the rules. This shows how gullible and dependent the human race truly is. To lead an entire community by the nose for countless generations is amazing, and the people themselves had chosen their fate.

Even though this book tells of a very deprived community it does give hope. Jonas, the protagonist, and Gabriel, his adoptive brother, run away from this community. After many days of running from the searching of the community. Jonas hears something. He hears music. Singing and music were not allowed in the community. When Jonas hears the singing he remembers a memory he had received. It was a memory of love. The book closes with Jonas riding towards the new community he sees radiating love.

This book is also very similar to the situation presented. Although there are books, they are not read. Reading for pleasure is simply not done. Books open passages for people. They shed light on different countries, culture, ideas, and much more. Jonas's community is so sheltered. None of the ordinary citizens can remember a time of choosing of differentness. Everything is the same for everyone. If these people had had books, then they would have known what they were missing. They could have felt true emotions and really lived the life they were given.

The Giver is an outstanding book. It has morals, a story, and is very realistic. If I could I would save The Giver.

Writing Prompt 2
Persuasive: Music Labels

Recently, the music industry started to put rating labels on record albums, compact discs, and tapes. These labels describe the content and language of the music. A local committee is considering a rating label law that would make it illegal for anyone under the age of 18 to buy recordings with negative ratings.

Write a letter to the committee telling whether or not you think that negative rating labels should be used to restrict teenagers from buying certain music. Give specific reasons to support your opinion.

NAEP Questions Tool Tutorial

The NAEP Questions Tool provides educators, researchers, parents, and students with access to released questions from NAEP assessments in nearly all subject areas, dating from 1990.

The questions are presented as

- examples of what NAEP asks students in grades 4, 8, and 12;
- examples of questions that probe students' knowledge of specific content areas; and
- a way to examine student performance on a specific question by race/ethnicity, gender, and other student groupings across the nation and, for mathematics, reading, science, and writing.

NAEP has released over 1,000 questions from past assessments to the public, and will continue to release more after each assessment.

How to Access

The direct URL to NAEP Questions is <http://nces.ed.gov/nationsreportcard/itmrls> or click NAEP Questions on the Nation's Report Card home page.

How do I search for specific questions?

1. First, click on Search Options on the first screen.

Some NAEP questions are given to students at more than one grade level. These cross-grade questions are referred to as, for example, 4(8) or 8(4), where the first number refers to the focal grade—the grade level/assessment from which the question and related material was drawn—and the second number (the number in parentheses) refers to the other grade level in which the question was also given.

Three Ways to Search for Questions

There are three ways to search for questions:

- quick search,
- advanced search, or
- search by block.

Quick Search

Question difficulty is determined as follows: for multiple-choice and dichotomously scored (right-wrong) items, easy questions are those with scores greater than 60 percent, medium questions are those with scores greater than or equal to 40 percent and less than 60 percent, and hard questions are those with scores less than 40 percent. For constructed-response questions, separate weights are assigned to each score category.

How do I print a question or group of questions?

The NAEP Questions Tool allows users to customize and print NAEP questions. After selecting and saving questions in the Print Folder, you can change the question order, delete questions and decide what information you wish to print along with the questions (e.g., scoring guides, content classifications).

Selecting Questions

Select questions to be added to the print document by clicking on the check boxes in the In Folder column on the Search Results screen. A red check mark appears on each selected check box.

Note: As the check boxes are marked, the number of items in the Print Folder is NOT updated. To update the displayed information, click on To Print Folder to the Print Folder icon.

Removing All Questions from the Print Folder

Clicking on the Remove All Questions link on the Search Results page automatically removes all selected questions from the Print Folder.

Printing Individual Questions Directly

Questions are displayed as links on the Search Options page. Clicking on a specified question (link) displays the entire question. Clicking on the Printable Version link takes you to a screen that has only the question and does not include the NAEP Questions Tool interface. From this page you can print using the browser's print icon.

Adding/Removing Individual Questions to/from the Print Document

You can add or remove questions you are viewing by clicking on the Add Question/Remove Question icon on the upper right of the screen. As you add or remove questions, the number of questions in your print folder will be automatically updated.

The screenshot shows the NAEP Questions Tool interface. At the top, there are two tabs: 'New Search' and 'Previous Search Results'. On the right, it says 'Question 4 of 6'. Below the tabs, there is a 'To Print Folder: Empty' section. To the right of this, there is an 'Add Question' icon. Below this, there is a 'Subject: Writing' section with a link to 'Subject Info'. To the right of this, it says 'Grade: 4 Block: 1998-4W6 No.: 1'. Below this, there is a 'Description: Write a story about a castle' section. Below the description, there are several tabs: 'Question', 'Performance Data', 'Content Classification', 'Scoring Guide/Key', 'Student Responses', and 'More Data'. The 'Question' tab is selected. Below the tabs, there is a 'Printable Version' link. The main content area shows a list of questions. The first question is: '1. One morning a child looks out the window and discovers that a huge castle has appeared overnight. The child rushes outside to the castle and hears strange sounds coming from it. Someone is living in the castle!'. Below this, there is a text box with the text: 'The castle door creaks open. The child goes in.' and another text box with the text: 'Write a story about who the child meets and what happens inside the castle.'

Printing from the Print Folder

The selected questions are put into the Print Folder as one document. Clicking on the Print Folder link or icon brings you to a page where you have a number of options for formatting your print document. In the Print Options area, you can select items to include with your questions in the print document (for example, scoring guides/keys, performance data or content classification information). Questions are automatically selected on this page. Once you've selected what you would like to be included in your document, you can click Assemble Document. Note: In the print document, underlined text represents text that has been substituted for items that were originally part of a set. For the exact wording of items that were given to students, please refer to the text as represented with the tool itself.

Editing the Print Document

The order in which questions appear can be rearranged in the Edit section, so that easy, medium, and hard questions are arranged in an appropriate order. For instance, a teacher might want the easier questions to appear first, followed by medium, then harder questions. A question is rearranged by selecting one question then using either the Move Up or Move Down arrows to the right to move it accordingly. The change can either be retained by clicking on Save or be rejected by clicking on Restore. You can also preview a question by clicking on the View Question button. A question can be deleted from your document by clicking on Delete Question.

Information About National Assessment of Educational Progress

PROJECT MISSION. NAEP is administered by the U.S. Department of Education to report on the achievement of American students in key academic subjects. For more information about the NAEP program, visit the NAEP web site at <http://nces.ed.gov/nationsreportcard> or call 202-502-7420.

PARTICIPATION. States and districts that receive Title I funds are required to participate in biennial NAEP reading and mathematics assessments at grades 4 and 8. Teacher and student participation is always voluntary. Contact your school's NAEP coordinator for more information.

NAEP CONTENT. The National Assessment Governing Board (NAGB) develops frameworks detailing what students reasonably might be expected to know and do for each subject assessed by NAEP. For additional information on framework development, see the NAGB web site at <http://nagb.org>.

SAMPLE NAEP QUESTIONS. For each assessment, some of the test questions, along with performance data, are made available to the public to provide concrete samples of NAEP contents and results. For every assessment, NAEP distributes to participating schools sample questions booklets that provide more detailed information about the assessment design and questions. Released questions and student performance data may be viewed on and downloaded from the NCES web site at <http://nces.ed.gov/nationsreportcard/itmrls>.

SECURE NAEP QUESTIONS. On written request, adults may review NAEP questions and instruments still in use. These arrangements must be made in advance, and persons reviewing the assessment may not remove the booklets from the room, copy them, or take notes. Contact your school's NAEP coordinator for more information.

NAEP REPORTS. NAEP publications can be searched and downloaded from the NAEP web site at <http://nces.ed.gov/nationsreportcard>.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION. For prompt field staff support on these or other matters, call the NAEP Help Desk at 800-283-6237.
